

Each point is one route snapshot's median of five within-process repeat means; no independent-service confidence interval.
Coefficients are local effective costs, not measured HBM bandwidth.